NKF NAMKWANG FOOD

NKF NAMKWANG FOOD

NAMKWANG FOOD is..

In my birthday when I was young, my mother gave me toasted laver with rice. As it was so tasty, I never forget its flavor. When I was grown up, I noticed to the nutritious value of laver as a good food. So I established this business to supply general consumers with low price so that everyone can eat anytime anywhere easily.

We acquired HACCP, ISO22000 and other certificates to produce sanitary products. We have researched and produced more than 30 kinds of laver sanitarly to provide consumers with safe well-being laver together with variety flavors and nutrition. We commit to put our efforts in research and developing more sanitary and healthy products for our valuable customers' health.

We have OEM-based contracts with several clients including Folk Food, which run tourist shops in the domestic airports. We can enter into business relationship for areas wherever sales can occur. Order from large distributors would be welcome.

Production sit

STEP 1

Purchase of raw laver

The taste of laver is determined by the quality of raw laver and how to roast it. The company purchases high-quality laver produced in clean air and coastal sea in winter, and keeps it in cold storage. The production takes place throughout the whole year.

STEP 2

Screening and drying

Sorts out the purchased laver and puts it through the drying process slowly for about 7~8 hours in the drying machine in order to remove moisture to make it possible to store and use it for a long duration while keeping its taste and fragrance.

STEP 3

Seasoning and roasting

After being screened and stored for individual purposes, the dried laver will be roasted at proper temperatures while being put through the 1st and 2nd roasting machines by automated feeding systems. Considering that the roasting process will determine the taste of laver, experts with more than 10 years of experience are assigned to handle the roasting process to bring out the flavor.

STEP 4

Cutting, packaging and inspection

Thus roasted laver will be sorted out while going through an electronic calculator. The sorted laver will be cut by a cutting machine and packaged into individual packs while going through 1st and 2nd automatic packaging machines.

STEP 5

Storing and shipping of finished products

The finished products in boxes are moved to the warehouse and their shipped to clients afterwards. In order to supply products to clients as fast as possible, the company produces products based on daily plans.
